Jack Gruber, Head, Tells CSTA Aims

STUDY PROBLEMS

Election Of Officers Monday At 12:30

Jack Gruber, president of the California Student Teachers' Association, explained the aims and purposes of the organization to 75 education majors, yesterday.

According to Gruber, the purpose of the association is to study the problems of student teachers in California. Contacts with student teachers in other colleges, solution of problems in the teaching field, and stimulation of the highest ideals of professional ethics and attitudes are sought.

IMPROVEMENT DESIRED

The promotion of professional economic and social welfare of teachers is one of the aims of the Teachers Association, according to the C.S.T.A. constitution. Improvement of educational services in general is desired.

Gruber also told of the work accomplished by the state council in recent meetings at Los Angeles and San Francisco. Dr. Elmer Staffebach spoke on the California Teachers' Association which is sponsoring the C.S.T.A. and discussed activities of the two groups. Rules for membership eligibility were also explained.

MEET MONDAY

Another meeting will be held Monday at 12:30 in the Little Theater for election of officers and organization for this quarter.

Anyone wishing to know more about the C.S.T.A. may get such information from Miss Wittenberg in the Education office, Room 61.

College Debaters Participate In Program

Four San Jose State debaters will participate in a radio debate over K8FO Saturday afternoon at 5 on the question, "Should France accede to Italy's demands?", according to Mr. Ralph Eckert, debate coach.

Oiga Rosingana will handle the introductions, Masao Kanemoto will present the argument against accession, Virginia Rocca will argue for accession, and George Quetin will give the evaluation.

The program is of half-hour duration with each speaker having a five-minute talk, and the remainder of the hour being devoted to informal questions and answers.

COACH TALKS; TIME SET FOR AFFAIR IS 7:30

Coach Bill Hubbard's varsity basketball team will be honored guests at a giant pre-game rally tonight in the Morris Dailey auditorium, stated James Budros, rally chairman, yesterday.

JIM BAILEY EMCEES

Plans already completed will provide those attending with an evening of real entertainment with some of the finest talent in the school taking part in the show. Jim Bailey will be master of ceremonies in charge of the program.

Highlight of the evening's festivities will be a talk by Coach Hubbard and the introduction of the members of the team from the stage.

ORGANIZED ROOTING

Jimmy Fahn, head yell leader, will lead the members of the student body in some organized rooting in preparation for the game tomorrow night.

Activities will begin promptly at 7:30 and students with examinations scheduled for Friday will be able to attend without too much time away from their studies, as the program will be over by nine.

Frosh Women To Discuss Aspects Of College Life

"What College Experience Does and What It Should Do" will be the topic of discussion at the Freshmen Women's club meeting from 7 to 8 this evening in Room 1 of the Home Economics building.

Marjorie Pascoe, Betty Jean Brownlie, and Ruth Ann Bondurant are leaders for this meeting of the "Let's Talk It Over" club.

"All freshmen women are invited to attend the session which will be over promptly in order that those wishing to attend the rally may do so," announced Juanita Murdock, chairman.

YW Offers Open House Tea Today

An Open House Tea, sponsored by the hostess committee of the YWCA, will continue from 2 to 5 today in Room 14 with Elnora Howard and Evelyn Savio, co-chairmen.

All students are invited to this affair whose object is to acquaint students with one another.

"Come, bring a friend, and make new friends," announced Mary Frances Hill, YWCA secretary.

GALS BOW To Fashion, Walk ON WOOD

By IRENE MELTON
"Wooden Shoe Like To Be My Sweetheart?"

Something new in the line of "dutch treats" may cause local co-eds to adopt the above ditty for their theme songs.

Remember those snappy, wooden-soled shoes demonstrated recently in a nationally-read magazine?

Well, it seems what's good enough for Smith College wench is perfectly okay for local campus cuties, for several charmers have been seen (and heard) klipplopping their ways down the ivy-clad corridors of ye olde San Jose State collich, sporting the latest thing in milady's footwear, obtainable at Bloom's Shoe Store, (plug).

"T'would appear the Hol-land has taken these nifty new numbers to its heart—er—feet. The resulting situation calls forth expressions of dismay from virile eds who fear their femmes may decide to wear fashion's latest creation to forthcoming hops. As one puts it, "Wotta jolt when your partner steps on your pet corn with one of those heavy sabots!"

Then there's another school of thought which maintains that Dutch soles are better than French heels anytime. According to them, this way there's no danger of some passing waltzer hooking your pants cuff with her twelve-inch spikes.

STATISTICS SHOW S.J.S. EMPLOYMEN,

Data taken from the recently released "Statistical Reports of the California State Colleges" show that 227 of the 305 students receiving teaching credentials from San Jose State college last June are now employed.

Thirteen of the 78 students not employed are continuing courses at the college and 16 are occupied with housekeeping. Twenty-eight students are now active applicants for educational positions.

Comparing these figures with other California State colleges, San Jose is followed closely by

Opening For Woman At Mary Post Co-op

There is still a vacancy at the Mary Post co-operative house at 438 South Ninth street, according to Mrs. Helen Plant, house mother.

Any woman who is interested in a good inexpensive place to live is requested to see Mrs. Plant in the Dean of Women's office.

WOMEN'S GYM IS SCENE OF DANCE FRIDAY

REDHEADS TO BE ADMITTED FREE OF CHARGE

Redheads will be the privileged ones Friday afternoon at the dance in the Women's gym from 4:15 to 6:15.

All members of the student body who possess red hair will be admitted absolutely free of charge, while those less fortunate will have to produce the usual ten cents.

Featuring music of a five-piece outfit under the direction of Dick Anderson and Johnny Cooper, the dance this Friday will reach a new high in entertainment, according to Verda Brown who is in charge of the affair.

To be given away as door prizes are two packages of playing cards with the college tower engraved on each card, and passes to a down-town theater.

Students attending must present their student body cards for admission.

Three Staters Admitted To Writers' Club

John Weybrew, Helen Bardmess, and Mary Traub were accepted to membership in the college literary honor society, Pegasus, at a meeting of that group yesterday at the home of Katherine Sanford, according to club members.

Students may apply for membership to the literary society by giving an original manuscript to a Pegasus member for reading before the group. Either prose or poetry is acceptable.

Tryouts For Play, 'Dulcy' Today, 4 to 6

SECOND COMEDY

Copies Still Available; Parts Open To All

San Jose State college's Drama department holds first tryouts today from 4 to 6 in the Little Theater for the second production of the three-play winter season, Kaufmann-Connelly's "Dulcy".

NINE ROLES AVAILABLE

Replete with "exceedingly fine comedy parts," according to Miss Margaret Douglas who directs the play, there will be nine roles available.

An hilarious comedy of a dumb but beautiful wife which has become the most proverbial of domestic comedies, it follows closely on the first of the Kaufmann-Connelly plays to be given here this season, "Beggar on Horseback" which opens January 26. "Dulcy" will be staged February 16 and 17.

POSITIONS STILL OPEN

Copies of the play will still be available in the reserve library today for last minute prospective tryoutees, says Miss Douglas, who continues the policy made in the four previous tryouts of throwing them open to the entire student body, drama majors or no.

Scripts may be read during the two hour period. If any parts remain unfilled following the tryouts today, they will be continued tomorrow.

Seniors To Hear Hospital Official Today In Class

Talking before the seniors in orientation today at 11 o'clock in the Little Theater, Dr. J. R. Cutting, assistant superintendent of Agnew State Hospital, will give an account of his recent trip to the Phillipine Islands.

Dr. Cutting traveled to Manila accompanying a group of feeble-minded Filipinos, which were under his care.

Motion pictures will accompany the doctor's talk, showing scenic views of Honolulu, Hong Kong, Shanghai, and Manila.

Personnel Fees Due Tomorrow

All students who plan to take the personnel tests given Saturday at 8 a.m. in the Little Theater must pay the two dollar fee in Room 2, tomorrow, according to the Business office.

Students who do not pay the fee on time will not be allowed to take the tests as scheduled. Late payments will not be accepted Saturday morning. All students who fail to take the tests as scheduled will have to pay a four dollar fee.

All entering and transferring students are expected to take the personnel tests.

The College Is Growing . . .

With the granting by the state of California of half a million dollars to San Jose State college for the construction of a new library, another step in the extensive program of the college has been realized.

With the awarding of the library money comes the announcement that Spartan Stadium is set for 5000 new seats that will be ready for the fall grid season.

The students and faculty of San Jose State should be grateful to the state administration headed by Governor Olson for the money for the much needed library, and to college officials for the stadium money. Both of the additions will be of vast benefit to our institution in educational and athletic facilities.

The college is growing . . . —B. J.

There will be a meeting of the Women's P. E. Major club on Thursday night, January 12, at 7 p.m. The meeting, which is in charge of the freshman majors, will feature an exhibition of Japanese wrestling.

The name of the person who borrowed $1.30 from a brown kid purse between the hours of one and three Wednesday, is definitely known. If the money is not returned in an envelope—addressed to V.B.C. in the box for C's in the Co-op by noon Friday, the name will be reported and actions taken. Money is desperately needed.

CACKLE!
CACKLE!

Since the day BILL BOLICH first entered the sacred portals of this noble institution he has been the object of a long and bitter controversy. There are those of one school who will swear he looks like a TRUCK DRIVER, and there are others, apostles of finer things, who will strongly declare he has the classic features of a POET.

The argument has reached an impasse with each side resorting to hurling bitter insinuations at the other. Let us chance into the Spartan Daily office, always a hotbed for debaters, where we overhear the casual conversation of Ben Melzer and Jim Bailey, columnists, adventurers, and sports-men.

BAILEY: What do you think of the Co-op coffee?

MELZER: Well, I don't know; but something is making my hair turn white. But what has this got to do with Bolich?

BAILEY: They both have weak characters!

MELZER: Incidentally, speaking of William, have you ever given notice to the refined, aesthetic rings under his eyes?

BAILEY: Yeah, if he stretched out those rings, end to end, they'd look like seven miles of bad road. If you ask me, he looks like a truck driver!

MELZER: Jim, how can you say that . . . you've hurt William. In these harsh days of existence a poetic misfit, such as he, finds small consolation. Never, never strike a soul when he is down!

BAILEY: What do you think I got him down for?

MELZER: You've got me convinced. He is a truck driver. You win! (Next week CACKLE! CACKLE! will discuss whether Tom Hardiman is a peasant or not.)

ON OTHER CAMPI

By SHIRLEY STRAUB

A lot of publicity was the result of Life magazine's photographer attending a "Hitler" party at the University of West Virginia. The idea of the party was a takeoff of the policies of the Nazi regime in general, and naturally der Fuhrer was the target for a lot of gags and impersonations.

AT OLD HEIDELBERG

In denunciation of the students of the University, Das Schwarze Korps, Nazi paper, stated, "If were not such barbarians who resolutely decline to imitate the kultur of others, the students of Heidelberg University would have to put on a beer stunt at which everybody would have to appear in the mask of President Roosevelt." . . . General student reaction to the whole affair was one of amazement and surprise that it caused such widespread comment.

It seems somebody still cares enough about it to bother, anyway, up at Washington State they held a student poll to pick out most popular choice for who should play the part of, you guessed it, Scarlett O'Hara if and when "Gone With the Wind" ever is produced . . . In case it makes any difference to you, Bette Davis won, with Katherine Hepburn running second . . .

The paper of the University of Alaska, at College, Alaska, is called the "Farthest North Collegian". It comes out once a month and has two sections, one written by the students and the other by the faculty . . . A lot of the material concerns mining and skiing, and in the December issue announcements of weddings and engagements covered more space than any other topic . . . Willie fell down the elevator. Wasn't found till six days later. Then the neighbors sniffed, "Whiz, What a spoiled child Willie is!" —Arroyo

THE SOUTH

At the University of Texas a recent Charity Ball the ugliest student was chosen to be queen of the affair. The contestants wore the latest thing in formals . . . backless gowns and hoop skirts were very much in evidence, and coiffures very lovely . . . The candidates were all boys . . .

Greenfield Village—Henry Ford's memorial to his mother near Dearborn, Michigan.

In this quaint, picturesque village, completely cut off from the hectic outside world by a high brick wall—all the romantic simplicity of the past prevails.

The moment one steps within the walls, one completely enters the past. Colorful horse-drawn carriages of the revolutionary period and pre-Civil War south greet you, carrying you to the village proper—only a short distance from the entrance. Both footmen and drivers of the carriages are attired in the clothing of the period which they represent.

EDISON'S WORKSHOP

The outstanding feature of the village is the workshop in which Thomas Edison invented the electric bulb and made other discoveries. Original tools and the building in which Edison worked, can be found in the village.

Other features include a replica of the courthouse in which Abraham Lincoln carried on his early work as a lawyer. In a corner of the courthouse, under a glass case, stands the blood-stained chair in which Lincoln was assassinated.

FOSTER'S HOME

Stephen Foster's home can be seen nestled on the banks of a lagoon, on which paddles a Swannee River boat. It was among this marshy atmosphere that Foster composed "Way Down Upon The Swannee River" and other songs, beloved by thousands.

An ancient tin-type studio, still photographing visitors, stands near the exit. On the walls of the studio hang types of Will Rogers, movie celebrities, and royalty.

New Co-op Door
Injures Co-op

What has happened to that glass door in the Co-op Store? Something must have happened to it, enough gone. In its place is a thick wooden one which effectively bars sight of any approaching coffee 'n doughnut customers.

While watching for a short time yesterday, this writer saw the pretty co-eds get smacked by the unexpected opening of said door. They didn't have a chance. They had no time to retreat and the stools along the counter refused their stepping aside to avoid the swinging door.

The men were more fortunate. They approached the door with caution. When within a few feet of it they would turn around and sidle into it.

P.S. It got me, too.

WORKING THE SPORTS ANGLE

By PONY SWENSON

JINX NIGHT—It will be "jinx night" tomorrow out at the local basketball emporium when Bill Hubbard's hired hands and their arch enemy, the College of Pacific, tangle in a "Friday the 13th" basketball encounter.

There is no truth to the rumors that the Spartan basketball team has ditched this week's practice sessions to hunt four leaf clovers on the Washington Square campus. Neither will the local cagers openly admit they instigated a plot to pilfer Seabiscuit's gold related shoes.

Rumors have leaked out that Bill Hubbard has been teaching his boys how to toss salt over their left shoulders when crossed by a black cat, and the time usually spent on basket tossing practice has been devoted to learning the fundamentals of such games as—Pins, Needles. What goes up the chimney? Smoke. What comes down? Santa Claus, etc."

SPARTANS SERIOUS. In other words, Boss Bill's boys are out to tie a knot in the Tiger's tail, and they don't intend to let such trivialities as a "Friday the 13th" interfere with their plans.

A week of hard work under the watchful eye of the 'Hub has brought the Spartans a long way up the ladder since their licking at Stockton a week ago. It will be difficult for followers who witnessed the Tiger game to recognize the Washington Square casaba crew. That's how much the Spartans have improved.

TAB SPARTA . . . As far as we are concerned the Tigers will have all the bad luck in tomorrow night's "Friday the 13th" extravaganza. Barring an unexpected influx of black cats and too many trips under ladders by Boss Bill's boys, we pick San Jose to win by 13 points.

ON THE "Q-T"—The San Jose News last night carried the story of a proposed charity football game featuring our Spartan grid-ironers in a grid extravaganza in Spartan Stadium sometime next season. Phone calls to Coach Dudley DeGroot and President T. W. MacQuarrie failed to gain any release on the details of the contest.

Both DeGroot and MacQuarrie were puzzled as to how the "News" had obtained the story which is supposed to be strictly on the "Q-T". The only thing that either would admit was the fact that the contest is on the fire and another meeting with local business men is scheduled for today.

Jones And Smith Big Mat Losses

Eugene Grattan must face the wrestling campaign without the presence of Johnny Jones or Jack Smith, two common names, but two uncommon grapplers who enjoyed an all-victorious season last year.

As a heavyweight, Jones won four major championships. He was feared up and down the coast and had another season of eligibility but he obtained a post with the local police department and will be unable to wrestle.

Jack Smith likewise possessed a remarkable record as a lightweight. The former Los Angeles Junior college football star won all of his matches under Grattan last season and was never extended longer than three minutes.

"SWEDE" SEEKING STARTING ROLE

Battling for a starting position on the Spartan basketball quintet is "Swede" Smersfelt, veteran from last year's squad. At present Webb Anderson is expected to get the nod over Smersfelt at one of the forwards, but the latter should see plenty of action against College of Pacific tomorrow night.

Smersfelt is a senior, entering San Jose as a transfer from Marin Junior college. He is rated as an adept ball-handler and played no little part in Sparta's basketball conquest last year.

FROSH BASEBALL MEN WILL HOLD MEETING TODAY

The first call of the 1939 season was issued by Coach Hovey McDonald yesterday for all freshman baseball players to report in the Men's gym today at 3 o'clock.

All candidates intending to go out for the frosh team are requested to attend this first meeting, in order that plans for suits and physical examinations may be discussed.

Anyone who cannot attend the meeting is asked to leave his name with one of the managers or see Coach McDonald, sometime before 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Spartan basket bombers ready for tomorrow night's clash, and the locals are set on avenging the 27-26 setback handed them by the Tigers a week ago in the conference opener.

Although the Spartans lost in the last meeting of the two teams, San Jose has improved enough to cause Hubbard to predict a win for his ball club tomorrow.

Chief cause of the rise in Spartan basketball stock is the efficiency of the new combination found by the shift of Captain Lloyd Thomas to center from guard. Thomas has sparked the front rank offensive strength with his smooth floor play.

Webb Anderson, scoring threat of the frosh last year, has looked like his old self as a basket tosser and looks like a sure starter at one of the forwards.

Yearlings Lead At Half 19-18; Jaycee Wins With Height

San Jose's yearling basketball quintet was unable to cope with five young giants placed on the floor by Menlo Jaycee and as a result lost a 40-37 verdict to the junior collegians at Menlo last night.

Faced with a team that averaged 6 feet 1 inch, the Spartlets fought a close battle, but lost out in the final two minutes. The Macmen had held a 19-18 margin at half-time and trailed by only a single point as the game rushed into the last two minutes.

FIRST DEFEAT

With this set-back, Coach Walt McPherson's freshmen had their first taste of defeat. The yearlings opened their season last Saturday with twin victories over Watsonville high school.

Menlo put all of its scoring punch into its two forwards who teamed up to collect 29 points. Sedhan with 16 points and Lathos

Varsity Hardball Players Convene For Meet Today

With real spring weather awaiting them, candidates for Coach Walt McPherson's inaugural baseball team will meet today at 4 o'clock in Room 210 of the Science building, according to Captain Jack Riordan.

With many newcomers of high potentialities on hand, the team promises to be among the best in the history of the Spartan diamond, says Riordan. Such outstanding stars as Johnny Allen, Marin Jaycee transfer, Ed Dunn, from Taft, and others to add to the now star-studded roster, the baseball team may look ahead to an outstanding season.

Even some of the men who have formed the nucleus of the team for the past two years may find it difficult to break into the starting lineup, according to the fiery little captain who by no means is pessimistic.

The meeting today must be attended by all those who signed up for the course and Gil Bishop will officially turn over the reins to the newly-appointed McPherson.

MAESTRI OUT

State's freshmen lost any chance of winning when Maestri was ejected from the game with four fouls in the closing minutes of the contest. Leading by one point, the jaycee five slipped in another basket to assure a victory.

Figone and Texdahl, who started at forward and center, added eight points each to the Spartan total, while Sturz, opening at guard, accounted for four markers. Tippman, other forward in the starting lineup, failed to tally.

Begin Beguine * * * * * Played 23 Times * * * * * On Top In Co-op

By PATRICIA BLACKWOOD
Topping all records for any Hit Parade, the most popular recording of the day, according to employees of the Co-op, is Artie Shaw's arrangement of "Begin the Beguine", which overnight has become as popular as "My Reverie", at least as far as San Jose State students are concerned.

23 TIMES

"Yesterday from 8 to 1 p.m., "Begin the Beguine" was played 23 times on the Co-op nickelodeon," stated Miss Ann Trapin, waitress. "It was played nine times in 45 minutes that I was there, between 8 and 9 o'clock," said Fred Merrick.

Second in line was "Umbrella Man", followed closely by "All Ashore" and "My Reverie".

Tapping on the counter with rings, silverware, and anything that happens to be handy, students emit primitive rhythms which seem to surge up within them, when the records begin—just a bunch of Jitterbugs, I call it.

Director Learns Selections For SJS Music Clinic

Names of selections which will be played at the music clinic to be held in Morris Dailey auditorium January 21 were telegraphed to Mr. Adolph Otterstein yesterday, according to the music director.

San Jose State college band and orchestra will begin the program at 9:30 when music directors of the nearby bay area gather to discuss these comparatively modern compositions—the difficult passages and where they originated.

Numbers required by the National School Band Association are, for the band: class A, "Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert; class B, "Jolly Robbers Overture" by Suppe; and class C, "Militaire Overture" by Skornicka. Pieces chosen for the orchestra are: Class A, "Barber of Seville Overture" by Rossini; class B, "Triumphal March" by Grieg; and class C, "Mission Overture" by Johnson.

Luncheon reservations, 50 cents each, should be made as soon as possible with Eleanor Joy.

It's fun to guess when you're playing games—but it's lots more fun to know who the maker is when you're buying clothes—especially in a Sale. And millions of Americans know who Hart Schaffner & Marx is . . . know, too, that the famous Trumpeter label stands for the highest standards of quality, style and value. This Sale features this famous label—and it's the only Sale in town that will. Better get here early for the best selection.
